2020 Impact Summary

PWC's rapid response to urgent changing needs

Essential Services

PWC secured designation as an essential business from Ohio Homeland Security allowing us to continue to provide urgent health and safety home repair services for families sheltering in homes during the pandemic.

Virtual Event

PWC successfully transitioned the ToolBelt Ball gala to a virtual format, raising a record $230,000+ in funding to support PWC's Modifications for Mobility program.

Referral Program

PWC helped advance a referral program that physicians can use to directly refer their patients to PWC as well as other community-based fall prevention services.

Volunteer Impact

6 months into the pandemic, PWC successfully organized and implemented a 45 Days of Service event, engaging over 1,500 community volunteers in performing home repairs and yard maintenance services to improve the lives and homes of 546 older adults and individuals living with disabilities.

People Working Cooperatively's

Virtual Programming

We expanded our community outreach through virtual programming, broadcast-based interactive curriculum and home-safety videos, reaching independent living centers as well as in-home settings.

COA Partnership

PWC partnered with the Council on Aging to keep the homes of 75 seniors as healthy as possible by installing Air Purification Systems designed to eliminate sick building risks by neutralizing odors, particulate, smoke, mold, bacteria and viruses.

PWC Study Launches Pilot Program

PWC study "Developing Sustaining Financing Models to Scale Aging in Place Program" resulted in a planned large-scale pilot in partnership with Molina Healthcare.

Bringing Education Home

Our popular Aging-in-Place programs went virtual, serving seniors who were sheltering in place during the pandemic. We even provided tablets for those without access to a computer.
